Japanese publication of Prof. Dr. Narinobu Inouye (Japan) on orchid virus diseases translated into English language now.

Prof. Dr. Narinobu Inouye, Japan is worldwide known as an expert on orchid virus diseases and he has been studying this topic for about 40 years. He has collected a unique database of pictures, most of them his own photographs, and has described elaborately all aspects of virus diseases. How to detect the very first symptoms, spread and how to prevent and control; it is all being described and with a keen eye for details.

Great value

The Dutch Inspection Service for Horticulture (Naktuinbouw) has recognised the great value of this publication and has taken the initiative to publish this rare book for the first time outside Japan.

The book contains over 260 pictures, never published before and will have a full index on almost every orchid virus-related disease.

And, most important, now the vision and background information of Prof. Dr. Narinobu Inouye can be read by researchers all over the world in English.

The final date of the publication of this book is due within a few months.
